4. The voting procedure shall be supported by a computerised system of vote casting and counting, ensuring that the number of votes cast corresponds to the number of votes held by the shareholders and eliminating – in the case of secret ballot – the risk of discovering how individual shareholders voted.

1. Shareholders intending to propose candidates for members of the Supervisory Board should provide the Company with statements of reasons supporting the candidatures, along with the candidates' professional biographies, early enough for the other shareholders to acquaint themselves with such information before the General Shareholders Meeting and to adopt an informed resolution. The General Shareholders Meeting shall elect all members of the Supervisory Board, except for members appointed by the State Treasury.
3. The provisions of this paragraph shall apply subject to any personal rights of shareholders to appoint members of the Supervisory Board.
4. Subject to the proviso contained in Par. 14.1 above, candidates for Chair and other members of the Supervisory Board may be proposed by any participant of the General Shareholders Meeting. Candidates for Chair and members of the Supervisory Board shall be recorded in the minutes, along with brief statements of reasons supporting such candidatures. Additionally, such proposals shall be accompanied by a written representation by each candidate for member of the Supervisory Board to the effect that he/she agrees to stand as candidate for member of the Supervisory Board, along with information that he/she meets the requirements stipulated in Art. 18 of the Commercial Companies Code and a representation that he/she agrees to the processing and publication by the Company of his/her personal data to the extent required by his/her standing as candidate for member of the Supervisory Board or serving on the Supervisory Board. 6. The election of the Supervisory Board shall be conducted by way of secret ballot and the candidatures shall be voted on separately, in alphabetical order.
7. The Chair of the Supervisory Board shall be the candidate who receives the highest number of "for" votes from among candidates for that position. Members of the Supervisory Board shall be the successive candidates (whose number is equal to the number of Supervisory Board members determined in accordance with Par. 12.1. above) who receive the highest number of "for" votes. Resolutions on the appointment of the Chair and the remaining members of the Supervisory Board shall be adopted with an absolute majority of votes.
8. If candidates qualified to become members of the Supervisory Board receive an equal number of votes or fail to receive a required absolute majority of votes, the Chair of the General Shareholders Meeting shall order a supplementary tie-break vote. In such a case, the candidate who receives the highest number of "for" votes shall be deemed the elected member of the Supervisory Board, subject to the absolute majority requirement.
9. After the election process is concluded, the Chair of the General Shareholders Meeting shall inform the shareholders of the number of Supervisory Board members meeting the criteria stipulated in Par. 8.5 of the Company's Articles of Association.

Par. 14a

[Election of the Supervisory Board Through Block Voting]

1. At the motion of Shareholders representing at least one-fifth of the share capital, elections to the Supervisory Board should be conducted at the next General Shareholders Meeting by voting in separate groups ("block voting").
2. The motion referred to in Par. 14a.1 shall be submitted to the Management Board in writing, at such time as to allow the election of the Supervisory Board through block voting to be included in the agenda of the General Shareholders Meeting.
3. Before proceeding to the election of the Supervisory Board through block voting, the General Shareholders Meeting shall determine the number of Supervisory Board members.
4. Before block voting is ordered, the Chair of the General Shareholders Meeting shall inform the General Shareholders Meeting of the number of persons present, the total number of shares, the number of shares held by the Shareholders present, and the number of shares required to create a group entitled to elect a Supervisory Board member. Subsequently, the Chair shall adjourn the Meeting in order for the groups to be established.
5. Persons representing the number of shares equal to the quotient of the total number of the represented shares and the number of Supervisory Board members may create a separate group with the purpose of electing one member of the Supervisory Board. However, these persons shall not participate in the election of other members of the Supervisory Board.
6. The establishment of a group shall involve the determination of the composition and the designation of the chair of the group. The chair of the group shall not be elected if the group is composed of only one Shareholder. Following the adjournment, the chairs of the established groups shall submit to the Chair of the Meeting a written information notice, authenticated by the signatures of the Shareholders or their representatives, containing:

- a) designation of the chair of the group,
- b) applications to the group, specifying the number of shares represented by each of the Shareholders.

A Shareholder may change its decision as to group membership only as a result of actions taken to remove the irregularities referred to in Par. 14a.7.

7. The Chair of the General Shareholders Meeting shall examine the correctness of the establishment of the groups and, should any irregularities, involving in particular: one Shareholder being a member of more than one group, missing signatures or a group being composed of Shareholders representing insufficient number of shares, be found, shall order an additional adjournment of the Meeting in order for the irregularities to be removed. Such irregularities may be removed by amending or supplementing the existing statement or submitting another statement on the establishment of a group or groups.
8. Upon completion of the aforementioned procedures, the Chair of the General Shareholders Meeting shall announce a list of groups and members of each group and the voting order. The voting order shall be determined by a draw. The groups which are composed of Shareholders representing an insufficient percentage of the share capital shall be ignored in the announcement. The provision of the preceding sentence shall apply accordingly to the Shareholders registered with two or more groups.

The Shareholders shall have the right to appeal to the General Shareholders Meeting against the Chair's decision concerning the above matters.

9. A group voting at a given time, immediately following the opening of its meeting, by virtue of a decision of the Chair of the General Shareholders Meeting and the chair of the group and with no objections from any of the members of both groups, may be merged with another group which has not yet voted in order for both groups to vote jointly. If following such merger the groups are entitled to elect a number of Supervisory Board members greater than the number resulting from the aggregate of their individual entitlements, the Chair of the General Shareholders Meeting shall inform the General Shareholders Meeting of the merger of the groups and adjust its previous statement accordingly.
10. If a Shareholder is registered with more than one group and this irregularity is not removed despite the announcement of an additional adjournment or is overlooked, the Shareholder may vote only in the group which votes first. Shares held by the Shareholder shall be ignored during the determination of the number of shares represented by the members of the other groups with which the Shareholders was registered.
11. The proceedings and voting in the individual groups shall be ordered by the Chair of the General Shareholders Meeting and presided over by the chairs of the groups. The proceedings and voting shall be held at the General Shareholders Meeting venue. All General Shareholders Meeting participants may be present at the venue; however, the chair of a group may motion to call a recess of up to 15 minutes to allow the group members to conduct confidential consultations. Immediately upon the opening of the proceedings by a given group or following such a recess, the group may abandon voting, but only on the condition of no objections from any of the participants.
